Supporting Your Child's Development. One Step at a Time...

This month our teachers are starting to prepare curriculum for their classroom for the next three months. Teachers take a lot of pride when choosing activities for your child to participate in. Through observations, research and discussion they plan curriculum that works for groups as well as individuals. They know that they might choose activities and engagement might just not be there for the group or child that day. They know that if they are not seeing that engagement piece, they need to switch gears and find something that is going to entice that kiddo. We want children engaged...because if they are not, they will not retain any information that we are trying to teach them.

Focus on Fun

This month our classrooms are helping to create some established art for our LPW Gallery. Check out upstairs Hallway for our Masterpieces that inspire creativity. Art is all about the PROCESS and the PRODUCTS look pretty amazing too!

Songs & Signs

I'm a Little Snowman

I'm a little snowman,
look at me.
These are my buttons, 1, 2, 3.
These are my eyes
and this is my nose.
I wear a hat and scarf.
Brrr...it's cold!

Play...Teach...Love

Getting to teach kids is something so, so special to me. I love watching them learn things about the world every single day. Seeing their minds grow with curiosity and excitement brings me endless joy and getting to experience and facilitate that growth in the classroom everyday makes me so happy.

I can't think about all this learning without my mind immediately going to my kiddos in Coconut Shores. I watch as they learn new songs and new dances and figure out things about themselves, our classroom, their teachers, and friends every single day.

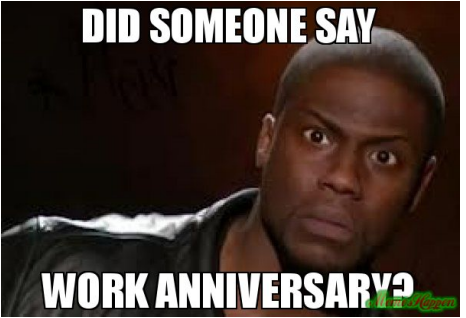

Love, Miss Zoe (Coconut)

Featured Crafts

Apple groves- Shape Scarecrows!
Look at all these different forms made from the same shapes.
Our kiddos are amazing and creative!

Happy Anniversary!

Check Back
Later...we have no anniversary to celebrate this month.
