SEATTLE
MARCH 2024

Message from our Director

Last month we said good-bye to our School-Age Program (We were super sad to see them go) and welcomed a new Pre-K program in our Metro classroom. Our older Pre-K kiddos were so excited for their new learning environment. Our kiddos have really blossomed this last month in Metro and can see that they love more independence. Thank you to Miss Helena and Miss Tayonna for making Metro flourish this last month. We still have a couple open spots if Parents know anyone seeking care.

Supporting Your Child's Development. One Step at a Time...

This month our teachers will be working on Curriculum Development in their classrooms. Our teachers use Assessments and Observations as reference for what children as a group and individually in their curriculum. Parents are welcome to request and partner with teachers on curriculum.

Focus on Fun

It's Women's History Month. It's so important for everyone of our children to hear and learn about all the amazing women that have impacted our history and appreciate what these strong women have done for communities. Teachers will be sharing with children this month through reading, music and activities.

Play...Teach...Love

Kids are so curious about life, its something I love so much about teaching. You can give them the simplest thing, like a rock and they will have a dozen questions about it! I love teaching kids because we're able to turn that curiosity into a love for learning new things. When I teach children, I get to see them grow and understand new things. When they finally understand something we've been working on, it is one of the greatest rewards. 😊
